

Board Directors 2021

Background

The Australian Fodder Industry Association (AFIA) is the peak body for the Australian fodder industry. It is a not-for-profit public company limited by guarantee. The organisation is member-based, comprised of fodder industry producers and supply chain partners, from across the country.

The role

The role of the Board is to provide AFIA with leadership, strategic direction, risk management, governance oversight and performance monitoring, while taking into account the interests of members, the fodder industry, and other stakeholders.

Under the AFIA Constitution [8.1(e)] only those members who have held an AFIA membership for two years are eligible to nominate for a Board position. Board members are elected for a three-year term.

Current Director and Chairman, Brad Griffiths' term expires at the 2021 AGM. Brad has indicated that he is re-standing for election.

The Australian Fodder Industry Association invites applications from members wishing to be considered for appointment as a Director of the Association.

Skills set

The AFIA Board has recently completed a Board skills matrix, and following this, is seeking candidates with skills and experience in the following areas:

- strategic planning,
- financial management and economics,
- knowledge of government processes/working with government, particularly as it relates to project administration and management.

Additionally, nominations are encouraged from members with the following attributes - business development and growth, commercial relationships, stakeholder engagement.

Applications

Candidates must have a genuine interest in, and a broad understanding of the fodder industry, accompanied by a sound understanding of good governance and well-developed communication skills. All interested members are encouraged to review the AFIA Constitution before nominating – see: <https://afia.org.au/about-afia/#constitution>.

Applicants are required to complete and sign the nomination form. For the nomination to be valid, it must be signed by two additional AFIA members.

Completed forms should be emailed to: secretary@afia.org.au. Applications close at 5pm on Tuesday 31 August 2021. Applications will be acknowledged on receipt. Material contained in nomination forms may be placed on the AFIA website for members to access.
